Continuing in February: Life in 3D, plus Just Us exhibit by local African-American artist the Youth Art Show exhibit at the Orlando Public Library

Continuing at the Orlando Public Library throughout the month of February is Life is 3D, a collection of stereoscopic images printed on archival materials and viewable with traditional red/blue 3D glasses. The show is on display on the second floor of the Orlando Public Library through February. Visit lifeis3d.com for more information.

In observance and celebration of Black History Month, the downtown library presents Just Us, works of art by talented, local African-American artists who entered their work through the Boys & Girls Club of Central Florida's Youthful Expressions Art Contest.

Young artists have an opportunity to show off their work and have it displayed at the downtown library in February during the Youth Art Show exhibit. Entry forms are now available at all Orange County Library System locations or online at teens.ocls.info. Submissions should be turned in at the Orlando Public Library by Friday, January 25. Awards will be presented to the winners on February 21 during the Youth Art Show reception.

Women in the Arts Inc. and the Orange County Library System invite professional female artists to submit their work to be exhibited during Women's History Month. Selected art will be featured in the Celebrating the Genius of Women show at the Orlando Public Library, which takes place during March and April 2019. The show includes a competition that makes finalists eligible for up to $2,000 in cash prizes and gallery representation at Baterbys Art Gallery. Women artists are encouraged to apply online at womeninthearts.org/art-competition.

If you have any questions about the exhibitions or events shared above, please feel free to contact us at 407-835-7323. You can also check for more library art exhibitions online at www.ocls.info/art.
