Make the perfect cup of coffee, chat with sport writers and more with the library in July

The Virtual Summer reading Program continues in July with more engaging programming you can enjoy from the comfort of your home. On July 23 we welcome back Jarrett Johnson of Lineage Coffee for Farm-to-Cup Coffee. Learn to pick the perfect coffee bean and the ideal brewing method to create a delightful cup of coffee. On July 30, join writers Peter M. Gordon, Tom Hufford and Jacob Pomrenke as they discuss their book Braves Win! The 1995 World Champion Atlanta Braves during Meet the Authors of Braves Win!

Don't forget to track your summer reading and activities in Beanstack, so you can earn points for a chance to win some great prizes at the end of the summer. Beanstack can also help you discover great books with friends and family, or on your own.

Imagine Your Story this summer with the library Virtual Summer Reading Program. For more information and to register for programs and special events, visit ocls.info/srp.
