Friends of the Orange County Library System host Pride Book Sale

The Friends of the Orange County Library System will be hosting a Pride Book Sale from June 1 – 30 at the Friends of the Library Bookstore located on the third floor of Orlando Public Library, 101 E. Central Blvd.

Browse through hundreds of previously enjoyed LGBTQ+ books including fiction, non-fiction, classics, new authors and more, at great prices. Thanks to a generous donation made possible by the LGBTQ+ Center Orlando, the Friends are able to bring this collection of great reads for everyone to enjoy at affordable prices.

“When we made the decision to downsize our library, I could not think of a better place to donate our books to,” said Executive Director of The Center George Wallace. “Orange County Library System is an inclusive safe space for many people.”

The Friends of the Orange County Library System support the library in enhancing resources, innovations and services for the public. The Friends believe that a community with a first-rate library is a better place to live. It is through these book sales that they are able to help raise funds so that everyone can enjoy the privileges of information access, entertaining events, and education.

The Center is a non-profit organization that promotes and empowers the LGBTQ+ community and its allies through information, education, advocacy, and support. Thank you to The Center for the wonderful donation and for supporting the library.
